Most exciting thing about participating in the tournament:

Playing a tournament in America excites me a lot. And the possibility of winning this tournament excites me even more.

Most interesting thing you learned about another culture:

The language, the food, and the way of life are the most interesting things someone can learn about another culture.

What do you want to be when you grow up?

I have just been admitted to study Law. And that is what I want for my future, to become a lawyer.
